

STAKEHOLDERS AWARENESS SESSION ON UNACCOUNTED FOR GAS LOSS BENCHMARK STUDY

Unaccounted for Gas (UFG) being one of the most critical element in the gas sector, plays a vital role in the profitability of the Gas Transmission and Distribution Companies. It is important for stakeholders to understand the term 'UFG' and the reasons contributing to it.

High UFG levels of the Gas Companies have been a major area of concern for the reason that it is wastage of a scarce resource and to a great extent is avoidable. OGRA has always urged the Gas Companies to control its UFG losses so that unnecessary burden may not be passed on to the consumers and the financial health of the Gas Companies should improve.

In order to determine UFG Benchmarks based on the international best practices, local environment and keeping in view ground realities, OGRA has initiated a comprehensive UFG benchmark study through independent reputed consultants. The draft report has been placed on OGRA's website (www.ogra.org.pk).

OGRA through this public notice invites all stakeholders to furnish their comments / views (if any) on the draft report, within 15 days from the date of publication of this notice. Thereafter, the report shall be finalized.

In order to make the process meaningful, Stakeholders Engagement Sessions shall be held in four major cities i.e. Karachi, Lahore, Islamabad and Peshawar as scheduled below. The consultant will give a brief presentation on the report and general comments/ views shall be elicited. Interested stakeholders desirous of attending the same are cordially invited.
